A BRIEF HISTORY OF OLD ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

A great emigration of German colonists mostly from Pennsylvania began settling in the Piedmont area of North Carolina during the first half of the eighteenth century. These people were of the Lutheran and Reformed faiths. As a result of living and working together, members of the two denominations agreed to build common houses of worship. These "union churches" were used by each faith on alternate Sundays, each faith having its own minister when a circuit rider was present in the community.

Old St. Paul's Church in Catawba County just northwest of Newton was organized about 1759, but it is generally accepted that the Rev. Christian Theus of the Reformed Church ministered to both the Lutherans and Reformed in the Carolinas before that date. St. Paul's was the first church established in the State west of the Catawba River.

The deed to the church property is dated May 20, 1771, and is made "Between Paul Anthony and Frony his wife of the county of Rowan in the province of N. C. of the one part and christian churches Lutarin (Lutheran) and Presbetaren (Reformed).....of the other part."

The church was originally known as "The Dutch Meeting House," but became known as the "The South Fork Church" about the beginning of the nineteenth century. It came to be called by its present name, "Old St. Paul's," sometime afterwards.

The first church building, a small logged structure became in need of repair and was dismantled about 1818. The sound logs from this building were removed a short distance away and were used to erect a two-story sanctuary, which was weatherboarded and ceiled. It is said that Henry Cline was the principal carpenter and that he completed the building in five and one-half months. This edifice still stands today stately and solid as the day in which it was constructed. The pews are arranged around three sides of the first floor with the pulpit and altar located on the other wall. Steps at the two narrow ends of the church lead up to the slave gallery. A wooden device called a sounding board hangs from the ceiling in the fashion of an inverted wine glass. Its purpose was to enhance the speaker's voice as he delivered his oratory from the pulpit.

The cemetery has reached extensive proportions. Many graves date back to the 1700's. Most tombstones are still legible, but others obviously older were either never inscribed or since eroded by time and the elements. Among the markers chiseled in German includes one dedicated to the memory of Abraham Mauser who died in 1702.

In 1818 a second deed was made on the property by John Smyre to John Wilfong, Sr. and John Propst, they being appointed to care for the church property.

The Reformed congregation of Old St. Paul's removed to Startown at the turn of the present century and there erected a small frame church in 1903-1904. The Evangelical Lutheran Tennessee Synod followed its brethren to Startown in 1905. The American Lutheran Church (formerly the Evangelical Lutheran Joint Synod of Ohio) which had worshipped in Old St. Paul's Church many years erected a new brick building in 1952 with-in sight of the historic Mother Church.

St. Paul's Church celebrated its Bicentennial Anniversary, October 4-11, 1959. During the memorable week special worship services were attended by members of both the Lutheran and the Reformed Church (now the United Church of Christ) in the amiable manner shared by the two communions continually since their organization two centuries ago in colonial North Carolina.

Practically all the Reformed and Lutheran congregations in Western North Carolina are transplants of ancient St. Paul's Church.

No more the weary sufferer mourns,
No more affliction
wrings her heart,
The unfettered soul to God returns, Forever her and anguish part,
Reserve O earth her
faded form,
In thy cold bosom let
it lie,
Safe let it rest from every storm,
Soon must it rise no more to die.

And though her Sorrows grew a pace.
 Her strenght departed not.
 Her treasure was her Saviours grace.
 His hand maintained her lot.
 Her gentle mien her placid eye.
 Her countenance subdued.
 Declared that it was nothing here.
 Her ardent wish pursued.
 J. White

Thou lovely rose in death repose
Till Jesus laid thee rise
Thou from death awake and joys partake
With saints above the skies.

In pain I mourn my babe is gone
With thee I fain would dwell
But Christ is there, then I'll resign
Then Frances fare you well.

"It is finished"

Born in scott Co. Va. Feb. 23
1801, and Died at his late Residence Feb. 13, 1868, Aged 66 yrs. 11 mos. and 18 days.

A safe and able divine; a Staunch and constant friend of Civil and religious liberty;
and an uncompromising opponent
To innovation in doctrine or Discipline. A pastor of the Evangelical lutheran church 42 y.

Farewell dear friends, though cold in death
I'll speak to you but not with breath
My troubles and trials are now all past
And here in my grave, I rest at last.

Remember well the vows you made,
When on your heads my hands were laid
And in all your trials to Jesus look
Who is all in all as saith His Book.

Wife and children my innocent doves,
Our Father in Heaven his children loves,
And when they ask Him for his grace
He never turns away His face;

Wife children friends foes and all,
You unto Christ I cannot call,
But when I quit this resting place,
I'd like in Heaven to greet your face,

I have fought a good fight;
I have Finished my course;
I have kept the faith. 2 Tim. 4,7.

From earthly care distress and tears
 Thou partner of my woes
 In quiet rest in Jesus blessed
 Since he in triumph rose.

When Christ who bled shall raise the dead
 In triumph thou shall rise
 And with the blessed in Jesus rest
 In mansions in the skies.

There may we meet in joys complete and long together dwell
 And serve the Lord with sweet accord Beloved wife farewell.

The beautiful flowers in shady bowers
 They with the winds do fly
 So dearest saint it was thy fate
 Like such to fade and die.

But could we soar where thou are gone
 We soon with thee would meet
 In climes above in perfect love
 And there each other greet.

But God's decrees must be obeyed
 As well as trusted too
 It pains the heart with thee to part
 Yet Catharine adieu.

Behold a sweet & lovely Son,
 Which once had staid with me,
 has bid the world adieu,
 no more he feels the pains of death.

Around the throne of God,
 the Soul now takes its high abode,
 to dwell in heavenly peace,
 Among the Saints & angels blessd, he shalt partake of endless rest.

Thou lovely rose in death repose,
 till Jesus bid thee rise,
 then from death awake & Joys partake with saints & angels above the skies.

A precious one from us has gone,
 A voice we loved is stilled;
 A place is vacant in our home,
 Which never can be filled.
 God in His wisdom has recalled,
 The boon His love had given;
 And though the body slumbers here,
 The soul is safe in Heaven.

Each mournful thought employs,
Since we shall see her face
no more,
Till Jesus shall appear.
At rest in Jesus' faithful arms;
At rest as in a peaceful bed,
? the dreadful
which round this sinful world are spread.

Sacred to the memory of Francis L. Sylvanus son of
John and Anna Bowman,
Who departed this life
January 6, 1858.
Aged 17 years 3 months and 2 days.

“He cometh forth like a flower and is cut down, He fleeth also as a shadow and continueth not.”

Thy days on earth but few have been,
Yet much affliction thou hast seen,
But freed at last from pain and sin,
Thou shalt with saints be welcomed in.

Thy body in the grave must sleep,
While we for Francis lonely weep,
Thy spirit shall with angels meet,
And shout along the golden street.

A precious one from us has gone,
 A voice we loved is stilled,
 A place is vacant in our home,
 Which never can be filled.
 God, in His wisdom, has recalled,
 The boon His love had given,
 And though the body slumbers here,
 The soul is safe in Heaven.

In memory of Noah W. Son of F. and C. Killian. of the 32nd N. C. Regt.
 Died at Orang, C. H., Va.
 December 14th A. D. 1863
 Aged 26 years 4 mo. & 27 d.

Now my departure is at hand
 From hence I must remove
 To Join the blessed celestial band
 In the bright realms above.

My warfare & contests are O'er
 And I can welcome Death
 Inspite of sin and satans Power
 I fought and kept the faith.

And this i've finished this my course and passed quite safely through My Lord who conquers every force Made to conquer.

My conflicts & debates are past & my salvations sealed my victories are gaine at last now as I quit this ?

Thou once love form now cold
 and dead,
 Yet living in memory still,
 Thy voice is hushed, thy spirit
 fled,
 But ? Masters wi ?
 I may weep for a while and tread my

The long life of service to the master is ended, The devoted preacher who proclaimed the pure Gospel of Christ, without fear, without favor; the faithful shepherd who through long years and much labor and sacrifice gathered the lambs and sheep into the master's fold, is gone to be with Jesus. He fought a good fight, he kept the faith, he will wear the crown.
Reunited with his loved one in the home
